If you're looking for a job in Pakistan then keep. Otherwise remove.

You already stated earlier that you have experience with them

This sounds like your working on being punctual, reliable and flexible and are not currently.

Add more details relevant to engineering on your jobs.

No need to put Heading but it's ok

Don't include skill level. Just list everything. The reasoning is you don't want to sell you skill's short.

Separate the Hard Skills from the soft skills. Otherwise it's just confusing

This is neither a soft skill nor a hard skill?

Remove skill levels

Again, what does this mean? Try to make it clear to the reader what this means.

all?

Don't undermine your input.

To assist how? Write more about the ENGINEERING that you did

Write out the word Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering

comman? Figure out the spacing

Shouldn't be on it's own line.

Try aming the dates a bit darker so their easier to read.

?? Write out what education this is formatting?

Expand on what this means? What skills did you learn or utilize in this position. Give examples.

This is OK to include but I don't think it's necessary. I would add Hobbies or something like that to make this resume a bit more personal
